The DoD Cyber Workforce Rotational Program Overview Factsheet

About the DoD CWRP

The DoD Cyber Workforce Rotation Program (CWRP) is a cyber-focused rotation program that is committed to broadening and enhancing the DoD cyber workforce's cyber skills through structured rotation experiences within the larger cyber community. Rotation assignments are between three and twelve months and focus on practical development designed to expand an individual's functional, cross-functional, and leadership abilities through on-the-job learning.

Why DoD CWRP?

The DoD CWRP is unique because it offers a combination of elements focused on employee development and is the first-ever DoD program for DoD Cyber Workforce Framework (DCWF) aligned personnel. The DoD CWRP offers a distinctive combination of the following:

- Customized Development: Participants will engage in external rotations to broaden skillsets and gain exposure to new environments.

- Cyber-Focused Career Development: The DoD CWRP offers cyber-focused development opportunities within the Department.

- Cyber Role Mobility: Participants will have the opportunity to gain exposure to differing mission goals or other DCWF work roles, as part of their rotation assignment.

- Defined Guidance*: Participants will be provided guidance on how to apply newly learned skills upon return to their Home Organization.

Note: DoD Components are responsible for providing a pathway for individuals to leverage newly acquired skills.

Eligibility Requirements

The DoD CWRP is open to DoD civilians who meet the following criteria:

- Grade Coverage: The program covers all permanent GS-11 to GS-15 (or equivalent), DoD Civilians who are working within the cyberspace domain in support of U.S. Cyber Command's mission.

- Certification: Participants must be certified at the level required for the rotation assignment, within the Host Organization.
